Ottawa Police Services Board puts search for additional Deputy Chief of Police on hold

(Ottawa) – The Ottawa Police Services Board has put its search for a third Deputy Chief of Police on hold until it completes its recruitment process for a new permanent Chief of Police for the Ottawa Police Service.

The Board is looking to develop a well-thought out, community-minded recruitment process. The Board is planning to make a further announcement on this process by the March 28 regular meeting.

The Ottawa Police Services Board is the civilian body responsible for governing the Ottawa Police Service. It is responsible for the provision of adequate and effective police services to the City of Ottawa's residents.
